DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments filed December 3, 2008, have been fully considered.
2. Claims 1-5, 7-11, 13-15, and 17-26 are pending and have been examined.
Claims 6, 12, and 16 have been canceled.

Response to Amendment

3. Examiner understands that Applicant is not required to submit an explanation of relevance, however, Examiner still respectfully requests a brief explanation of relevance indicating the references to be of most significance.
4. Examiner withdraws the statement regarding the drawings depicted on fig. 1 and 2 being prior art.
5. The objection to the specification is withdrawn.
6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the prior art have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

7. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Information Disclosure Statement

8. Applicant is reminded that an applicant's duty of disclosure of material and information is NOT satisfied by presenting a patent examiner with "a mountain of largely irrelevant [material] from with he is presumed to have been able, with his expertise and with adequate time, to have found the critical [material]. It ignores the real world conditions under which examiners work." Rohm & Haas Co. v. Crystal Chemical Co., 722 F.2d 1556, 1573 [ 220 USPQ 289 ] (Fed. Cir. 1983), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 851 (1984). (Emphasis in original). Patent applicant has a duty not just to disclose pertinent prior art references but to make a disclosure in such a way as not to "bury" it within other disclosures of less relevant prior art; See Golden Valley Microwave Foods Inc. v. Weaver Popcorn Co. Inc., 24 USPQ2d 1801 (N.D. Ind. 1992); Molins PLC v. Textron Inc., 26 USPQ2d 1889, at 1899 (D.Del. 1992); Penn Yan Boats, Inc. v. Sea Lark Boats, Inc. et al., 175 USPQ 260, at 272 (S.D. Fl. 1972).

9. Eliminate clearly irrelevant and marginally pertinent cumulative information. If a long list is submitted, highlight those documents which have been specifically brought to applicant's attention and/or are known to be of most significance. See Penn Yan Boats, Inc. v. Sea Lark Boats, Inc., 359 F~ Supp. 948, 175 USPQ 260 (S.D. Fla. 1972), aff'd, 479 F.2d 1338, 178 USPQ 577 (5t" Cir. 1973), cert. denied, 414 U.S. 874 (1974). But cf. Molins PLC v. Textron Inc., 48 F. 3d 1172, 33 USPQ2d 1823 (Fed. Cir. 1995).

10. Examiner has made a best effort to consider the large number of references submitted.

11. Please note due to the large number of references disclosed in the IDS (6/3/2008), applicant is requested to include a concise explanation of relevance indicating the references to be of most significance.

12. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

13. Claims 15 and 17-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 15 and 17-26 are not limited to tangible embodiments. In view of applicant's disclosure, specification (page 25, par. 84), the system may be hardware or a combination of hardware and software, further, the module is still software. As such, the claims are not limited to statutory subject matter and are therefore non-statutory.

14. Amending the claims to expressly recite a hardware element, such as a processor and some storage element (i.e. memory) would overcome this rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

15. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

16. Claims 1-3, 7-9, 17-19, and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goodman et al. (US 7,272,853, hereinafter Goodman), and further in view of Abramson et al. (US 7,461, 336, hereinafter Abramson).

Regarding claims 1, 7, 17, and 22, Goodman teaches a method of a device for filtering messages / Uniform Resource Locator (URL) routed across a network, the messages including field name-value pairs / URL components (abstract), the method comprising:
extracting, by a device, field name-value pairs / URL components from messages received via a network (col.6, lines 1-35); and a message filter of the device, for generating a rule which would allow messages having values of a field name that match the most restrictive data type (col.4, lines 40-67).

Goodman teaches filtering by type, but does not expressly disclose, however, Abramson teaches determining, by the device, a most restrictive data type of values from a plurality of data types of values for a field name of the extracted field name-value pairs (col.4, lines 1-30); and storing, by the device, the most restrictive data type in association with the field name (col.4, lines 10-30).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use data types corresponding to fields or components as taught by Abramson with the system of Goodman. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to perform such a modification to filter out potentially harmful input (Abramson, col.3, lines 25-67).

Regarding claims 2, 8, 18, and 23, the combination of Goodman and Abramson teaches generating, by the device, a rule which would allow messages having values of a field name / the URL components that match the most restrictive data type (Goodman, col.4, lines 40-67).

Regarding claims 3, 9, 19, and 24, the combination of Goodman and Abramson teaches applying, by the device, the rule to determine whether to allow messages having values for a field name / the URL components that match the most restrictive data type (Goodman, col.4, lines 40-67).

Allowable Subject Matter

17. Claims 4, 5, 10, 11, 13-15, 20, 21, 25, and 26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
